QUACK-QUACK
DELAYS PARIS
PEACE TALKSRUSSIAN DEMANDS
IRK DELEGATES
AT MEETING

BY LOUIS NEVIN
Paris, Aug. 16 (AP)—A Soviet demand that only nations actually at war with former enemy states should vote in commissions drafting the peace conference into a new struggle today, and one angry delegate protested delays and hours of "listening to quack quack quack."

The Russians presented their demands at the organizational meeting of the Romanian political and territorial commission, the Finnish commission and the economics commission from the three Balkan countries. They bumped into immediate opposition from Britain and France, and some of the smaller countries.

No decision was taken on the Russian proposal in any of the commissions, and conference sources said the matter probably would be thrashed out in the general commission.

Sick Of Listening
The only one of the eight commissions meeting today to get down to any actual work on a draft treaty was the Italian political and territorial commission. It heard suggestions for procedure.

When Soviet Delegate Andrei I. Vishinsky first presented the Soviet proposal in the Romanian commission meeting W. J. Jordan, the New Zealand delegate, shouted angrily:

"Let's do something. Here we sit listening to quack quack quack hour after hour. We are sick of it. Let's get on with the blasted conference. Let's do something. Get a president in the chair and let's get on with the work. That's what people expect us to do."

Vishinsky, insisting on his request, declared that "Bad tempers never help to solve problems. It would be extremely strange procedure if we had gone ahead with our organization and this question had come up later."

The proposal, in effect, would exclude France from voting in all the commissions save those involving Italy, and the United States from those concerned with Finland.

Sugar Fed To Hogs
At Naval Station,
Seattle Times Says

Seattle, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Seattle Times said today that "hundreds of cans of vegetables, fruits, ice cream mix, Vienna sausages and other items, including 100-pound sacks of pure cane sugar," were being opened at the Smith Cove Naval Station here and sold for hog food.

The 13th Naval District headquarters public information office said the commodities had been condemned for human consumption but that the commandant had ordered an investigation. The Times said it investigated yesterday, on complaint of naval station personnel, and that workers on the hog food "assembly line," and a reporter sampled the sugar and canned food and found them palatable.

The Times article acknowledged that some of the cans were dented and some showed rust. K. E. Monford, chief of the Federal Food and Drug Administration here, said that "so-called dented cans can be dangerous, and rust on the sides is, perhaps, even more dangerous because a pin-hole could spoil the food."

U.S. Prepared
For Bargain
On Palestine

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, Aug. 16 (AP)—President Truman put the United States in a somewhat improved position to bargain with Britain on the Palestine issue today by suggesting a method for bringing more Jewish refugees into this country.

He made no formal commitment. But he said he was "contemplating" asking Congress for "special legislation" authorizing entry into the United States of a "fixed number" of displaced persons from Europe, including Jews.

At the same time, a White House policy statement said that while Mr. Truman had been exchanging views on the explosive Palestine question with Prime Minister Attlee of Britain, "this government has not presented any plan of its own for the solution of the problem."

The United States repeatedly has urged Britain to let more Jewish refugees into Palestine. Diplomatic authorities said this position now can be reinforced by pointing to a White House inclination to admit more Jews into America.

Whether Mr. Truman's reference to "special legislation" implied that he might summon the 79th Congress to a special session after the November election was not cleared up. The possibility of a special session had been considered by some legislators before Congress adjourned Aug. 2.

Despite the formal disavowal of any American plan for settling the Palestine controversy, it was learned that Mr. Truman has put a measure of administration support behind suggestions of Jewish agency for Palestine that separate Arab and Jewish states be created in Palestine, with a large degree of autonomy for the Jews.

SURPLUS GOODS
TRICKERY BARED

Bidders Give False Data
On Qualifications;
Blacklist Filed

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Washington, Aug. 16 (AP)—Joseph Carroll, chief of the war assets administration compliance enforcement division, said today that 75 percent of the bidders for one lot of surplus war goods gave false information concerning their qualifications.

As a result, he told the house surplus property committee, the WAA has set up a blacklist to curb "speculators and profiteers."

Carroll, a former FBI agent, said the misrepresentations turned up in a sale of millions of yards of surplus cloth. He acknowledged that "some veterans" were using their special status to aid war goods brokers.

Meanwhile, the WAA denied that there was anything illegal about an order giving the United Nations and 11 other international organizations priorities for purchase of surplus property.

Carroll told the committee that the large quantity of cloth had been made available, at the request of the civilian production administration, for sale to clothing manufacturers. His division was drawn in, he said, when it was found that there were more bidders than manufacturers of the type of apparel for which the cloth could be used.

He said veterans on the list were checked first because they held top priority, with the discovery that only eight of the 62 veteran-bidders were actually engaged in manufacturing wearing apparel. A further check, he said, showed that 75 per cent of the remaining 500 bidders were unqualified as purchasers.

Key Witness Guarded
In Gambling Bribery
Case At Mt. Clemens

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Aug. 16 (AP)—Judge Herman Dehne, grand juror investigating law enforcement in Macomb county, tonight said he had asked state police to guard Arthur P. Sauve, who emerged today as key witness against four men indicted for gambling operations.

Affidavits signed by Sauve and five others were filed today as Judge Dehne bound over two of the defendants, Danny Sullivan and Lincoln Fitzgerald, for trial in circuit court.

The judge recalled the fate of State Senator Warren G. Hooper who was murdered before he could testify in a state graft grand jury case, and declared that "arrangements are being made to prevent anything like that."

Sullivan and Fitzgerald are under $1,000 bonds at Reno, Nev., following their arrest there late Thursday on fugitive warrants issued at the request of Melvin E. Orr, special grand jury prosecutor.

Since they are in custody they could be bound over for trial. The whereabouts of Mert Wertheimer and William McKeighan, the other defendants, are unknown so such action cannot be taken against them.

The affidavit signed by Arthur P. Sauve alleged former Mayor McKeighan of Flint was the "pay-off man but not a partner" in the gambling syndicate said to have been operated in the county by the other three defendants.

In Lansing, Capt. Donald S. Leonard, superintendent of the uniform division of the Michigan state police, disclosed he had suspended Sgt. William H. Hedt, commander of the Mt. Pleasant post, on the basis of information supplied by Judge Dehne.

The grand juror "gave me information that Sgt. Hedt should not be permitted to continue his police duties pending the filing of formal charges," Leonard said. "This has something to do with the grand jury's investigation."

Sergeant Hedt, 47, commanded the Detroit post from 1940 until last July when he was transferred to Mt. Pleasant. He joined the state police in 1920.

The Sauve affidavit asserted that McKeighan monthly handed him $800 "for Capt. Laurence A. Lyon (then superintendent of the uniform division of the state police)," and $300 "for Sgt. Lester V. Maycock, who was assistant to Captain Leonard, then in charge of the Detroit district."

The money was in return for "protection" of gambling establishments operated by the syndicate, Sauve said.

Police cases will be shifted there and new cases admitted in the isolation hospital, Burleson said. He said that the foundation would pay the cost of operating the isolation hospital, estimating at 100 a day.

HELP OF AFL IS SOUGHT IN
LAKES STRIKESHIPPING WALKOUT
EXPANDING, SAYS
CIO CHIEF

Detroit, Aug. 16 (AP)—The CIO National Maritime Union, claiming cooperation from 4,000 seamen aboard 98 ships, sought today to extend its two-day-old strike to all of an estimated 370 vessels that ply the waters of the five Great Lakes.

Joseph Curran, NMU president, moving strike headquarters to Detroit, made another bid for support from AFL seamen and told a press conference that the walkout is "rapidly becoming more effective" among crews on unorganized ships.

"We are still calling on the AFL to join us," Curran said, as he directed his unionists to avoid any future picket lines clashes such as occurred briefly in Detroit on the first day of the walkout. Two NMU members were beaten in a melee with AFL seamen.

"The pickets were not supposed to be there in the first place," Curran said in expressing "regret" at the "accident."

"If we can't bring the AFL seamen into this fight," he went on, "Then it means they aren't interested in a shorter work week."

The NMU seeks a work week reduction from 56 to 44 hours and a 10 to 18 cent hourly wage increase for its members aboard 73 ships.

Detroit Tied Up
However, the AFL Seafarers International Union, asking its members to respect picket lines "around NMU contracted vessels," said it will "honor our contracts and xxx continue to sail SIU contracted ships."

First court action against the NMU was brought in Detroit where the Automotive Trades Steamship Co. and the T. J. McCarthy Steamship Co., operators of three auto-carriers, petitioned for an injunction against picketing of their premises. Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms set a hearing for Monday.

According to Curran's estimates, there are from 12,000 to 15,000 Great Lakes seamen aboard 370 vessels.

He said 2,500 of these, members of the NMU of 73 ships, are conducting a "100 percent effective" strike.

An additional 1,500 on 25 unorganized vessels have also walked out, the NMU leader added.

The port of Detroit is "entirely tied up," according to Curran, and the strike is "rapidly closing" the ports of Chicago, Buffalo, Duluth, Milwaukee, Toledo, Astabula, O., and Erie, Pa.

In Cleveland, twenty-five of the 316 cargo vessels operated by members of the Lake Carriers Association were strikebound on the basis of a telephone check at 9:30 p. m. (EST), the association reported tonight.

FIXING OF MEAT
PRICES CHARGEDDepartment Of Justice
Sifts Large Number
Of Complaints

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP)—The justice department is looking into a "very large number" of complaints of price-fixing agreements and other illegal trade practices in numerous commodities — particularly meats — since their price ceilings were lifted.

An official fully informed on the studies disclosed this to a reporter today. He said complaints of price fixing and artificially created shortages in meat have been received from many sections of the country, specifically naming Los Angeles, Chicago and Washington.

He said the department also is rushing a study of a "very large number" of complaints involving other industries which he declined to name, to determine whether anti-trust prosecutions should be undertaken.

The official stressed that many meat handlers have no part in the alleged practices. Some of the complaints have come from within the meat industry itself, he said.

George Dressler, executive secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, commended the department for studying the situation.

At Chicago, Dressler said in a statement that there is a "definite need for the department of justice to come into an investigation of the meat business."

Bar Beer Goes Up
One Cent A Glass;
Used Cars Boosted

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP)—Price ceilings on beer over the bar went up one to two cents today, and used cars of 1945-46 make, white sidewall tires and electrical fuses joined the march of higher prices.

OPA authorized the boosts and also continued indefinitely the suspension of price controls on most kinds of fish and sea foods. Halibut was added to the list of ceiling-free items.

Ceiling prices of electric fuses of household and all other types were boosted 21.4 per cent under the new OPA law requiring the restoration of profit margins existing last March 31. The other increases were granted under previous OPA formulas.

White sidewall tires, back in production only recently, were assigned retail ceilings 12.5 per cent higher than maximum prices on other tires. The most generally used white-sided tire, the 4-ply 6.00x16, will sell for $17.65, OPA said.

The increase in ceilings on beer sold at drinking establishments amounts to one cent for a glass of 8-ounce or more, one cent on 7 to 12-ounce bottles or cans, and two cents for 32-ounce bottles.

Reasons for the increases, OPA said, are a recent boost in brewers' ceilings, a cut in beer production, and an increase in freight rates.

The same price increases for take-home beer were put into effect several weeks ago.

OPA said that ceilings fixed for used 1945-46 automobiles generally are only slightly lower than maximum prices on new cars. Heretofore, the ceiling on these used models was the price the seller paid for the car.

The new price schedule, effective August 21, lists ceilings for cars sold on an "as is" basis. Dealers may add 15 per cent to these ceilings for reconditioned and guaranteed cars.

His physician, Col. Wallace Graham, prescribed a continuation of the rigid diet which has brought the chief executive's weight down from above 178 to 172 pounds.

Colonel Graham told a reporter Mr. Truman was "feeling physically fit" but that he looked "a little tired" after the strain of 16 months in the presidency.

The presidential yacht, U. S. S. Williamsburg, in which the president and his staff will cruise in the Narragansett Bay area and along the coast of Maine, left Washington this afternoon.

A few hours before the departure, presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross denied at a news conference a published report that National Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan was seeking to resign that post after the November election.

Hannegan was equally positive in his denial, telling a reporter "It's not true."

Board of the "Williamsburg" with the president were Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder, the president's secretaries, Ross, and Matthew J. Connelly, Colonel, Graham, Clark Clifford, presidential special counsel; Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, military aide; Capt. James H. Foskett, Ted Marks, an old friend from Kansas City, and George E. Allen, an RFC director and intimate friend.

East Lansing, Aug. 16 (AP)—Discovery of a synthetic thyroactive material which will increase milk and butterfat production of cows won for Dr. E. P. Reinke of the Michigan State College department of physiology and pharmacology, the 1946 Borden award for outstanding research in dairy production.

The thyroactive material, which is a hormone stimulant, is made from combining iodine with casein under carefully controlled conditions.

Original tests of the thyroactive material on a large scale were made in England during the war and resulted in a 22.2 per cent average daily increase in milk production and a butterfat content increase of about 30 per cent.

Reinke is the seventh member of the M. S. C. to win the Borden award since it was established in 1936.

MOSLEMS AND HINDUS FIGHT,
BURN HOUSESINDEPENDENT INDIA
PLAN OF BRITISH PROTESTED

Bombay, Saturday, Aug. 17 (AP)—Ninety persons were reported killed and more than 900 injured in Calcutta Friday in a wild outbreak of violence between Hindus and Moslems during the Moslem league's "Direct Action Day" demonstration against the British plan for Indian independence.

A curfew was invoked from 9 p. m. to 4 p. m. to clear the streets and troops were sent to the widely scattered battle scenes.

Demonstrators set fire to houses and shops during the height of the demonstration and looting was reported in various localities.

The home of Dr. B. C. Roy, former member of the All-India Congress Party's working committee and widely known physician who has attended Mohandas K. Gandhi on several occasions, was attacked and fired.

Furniture and property of the Congress Party's medical mission to Malaya also were damaged.

Temple Damaged
Dispatches from Calcutta said the Bengal provincial congress committee office and two Hindu newspaper offices and a Hindu temple were repeatedly attacked and damaged.

Police opened fire several times during the day which had been declared a public holiday with all government offices and business houses closed down.

In Patna, a clash resulted when the Moslem league flag was raised over the Anglo-Sanskrit college, and seven were injured.

The observance of "Direct Action Day" in the rest of India was generally peaceful.

A delayed dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Don Huth in Calcutta said blood spattered the streets in the northern and eastern parts of the city and bodies of the dead and injured littered the pavements. He said the bloody clashes went on despite efforts of political leaders to maintain peace during the day's observance.

"Reports of stabbings, assaults, looting and arson poured into police headquarters, which was hard pressed in efforts to keep the situation from getting completely out of hand," Huth reported.

"Early tonight (Friday) it became impossible to contact police headquarters by telephone."

(A Reuters dispatch from Calcutta said the demonstrators fired scores of houses throughout that city Friday night and fire-fighters worked at top speed to check the flames. Hundreds of shops in south Calcutta had shattered windows and broken doors and gave evidence of arson and looting in the communal clash of unprecedented violence.

Despite pleas from all Indian parties to their followers to avoid violence, tempers boiled over and fights erupted in the streets of Calcutta during the Moslem-sponsored, one-day hartal (work stoppage).

Court Upholds Removal Of McNabb; Wylie Takes Road Commission Seat

The Delta county board of supervisors yesterday was upheld by Circuit Judge George W. DesJardins of Lapeer in its action last spring removing Marcus McNabb of Escanaba as a member of the county road commission.

McNabb had served on the road commission for 21 years and sought through circuit court action to have the removal action of the supervisors set aside.

In his decision in the case following a hearing in a special session of court here yesterday morning, Judge DesJardins ruled that "after mature deliberation thereon, it appearing that there is no error either in the records or the proceedings or in voting such removal."

"Therefore, it is ordered and adjudged that the removal of the said Marcus McNabb, as such member of the county road commission of Delta county, be in all things confirmed, and stand in full force and effect."

Copies of the court's order were mailed to McNabb and to Henry Wylie, Escanaba high school faculty member, who was appointed to fill the vacancy on the road commission created by the removal of McNabb.

Judge Frank Bell of Negaunee, whose illness prevented him from hearing the case, had ordered both Wylie and McNabb to refrain from attending road commission meetings or accepting payment as road commissioners until a final decision was reached.

McNabb did not appear at the hearing yesterday morning at the court house in Escanaba, and his counsel, Atty. H. J. Rushton, was absent because of illness.

The county board voted to remove McNabb at a meeting held April 30 following a three day hearing in which several score witnesses, largely employees of the county road commission, were heard. The hearing followed a long history of difficulties between the road commission and its employees, and much of the hearing was concerned with the commission's labor policies.

Charged at the hearing were the three road commissioners—Mc-

Nabb, Hilding Nordstrom of Gladstone, August Larson of Rock-
stone, and the county engineer. The latter was ruled out as a defendant because he is an employee of the commission and not an appointive officer of the county. Voting on each of the commissioners, the county board voted to remove McNabb and retain Nordstrom and Larson.

Shortly after the removal of McNabb the county board was named in a certiorari action brought by McNabb to have circuit court review the proceedings resulting in his ouster.

It was McNabb's claim that the proceedings were without legal foundation to support the charges made against him and others of the commission.

The decision of Judge DesJardins ends a controversy that has embroiled the county board of supervisors and the road commission for nearly two years. It has been the contention of counsel for the road commissioners that the road commission is a "body corporate" over which the county board of supervisors has limited authority. In the petition for a writ of certiorari, McNabb at one point specified that the county board's only power over the road commission was the appointment of its commissioners.

Charge Livestock Owners Hinder Tests For Disease

Three owners of cattle in Delta county have been charged with obstructing the work of state veterinarians testing cattle for Bang's disease, according to warrants for their arrest issued by Justice Henry Ranguette on complaint of F. K. Hansen, Marquette, state department of agriculture veterinarian.

Named in the warrants are Edward Zastrow of Bark River, Harry Zastrow of Harris, who is reported to own cattle in the Bark River area, and Louis Dubord of Bark River township.

The charges were made under a state statute which prohibits persons from unlawfully hindering, preventing or refusing to allow state veterinarians to conduct Bang's disease tests on cattle, or for retesting when necessary. Bang's disease (contagious abortion) is a highly infectious disease of cattle which is being fought under state and federal programs.

The warrants were issued yesterday after Hansen had conferred with Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle concerning the reported refusal of certain cattle owners in the county to cooperate with the veterinarians in the testing program.

Judge DesJardins Grants 3 Divorces

Circuit Judge George W. DesJardins of Lapeer county, presiding in a special session of circuit court in Escanaba yesterday afternoon granted three divorces. Judge DesJardins is presiding at court in the 30th judicial district because of the illness of Judge Frank A. Bell of Negaunee.

Blueberry Picking Gives Opportunity To Observe Nature

Blueberrying in Upper Michigan is not all just filling your buckets with the rich, blue fruit. It is a chance to observe the beauties of a land richly blessed with beauty.

The blazing star and golden rod are at their best on the plains and if you seek berries on the lower levels or at the edge of the woods you will find much of Mother Nature's handiwork to admire. The Clintonia berries are ripe in August. These berries are borne on a tall stem and grow in a cluster of from two to four. The bunchberry or cornel berry is also ripe during August and the berries are a bright rosy red in color and children like to taste them although they are not very flavorful. Dogwood, chokecherry, Juneberry, hazel nut and witch-hazel, dogbane, coral honeysuckle, elderberry, pincherries, blackberries, raspberries, blueberries all add to the feast that man and beast will enjoy. The ground is covered with small and delicate trailing vines and many an inconspicuous small flower blooms amid the richness of summer foliage in the woods and on the plains.

Wintergreen berries and wintergreen blooms may both be found in August. The vines of the trailing arbutus have put on a rich new growth and the jack pines are showing new, tightly closed cones. Oaks are laden with acorns, the corn of the deer herd.

POLIO HITS ALGER COUNTY

Only One Case Reported,
Rules Are Given To Avoid Illness

Munising—Alger county has only one case of polio (infantile paralysis or poliomyelitis) so far, it was announced by the Alger county health department in the county court house yesterday. The case is a ten-month-old baby from Munising. It has been taken to the Marquette clinic for care.

There is no cause for alarm, the department said, as there are only four cases in the whole Upper Peninsula this year. However, in order that people may be able to know if a child has polio and what to do if it does, the Press was given the following article for publication:

Watch these symptoms: Headache, unexplained fever, a cold, even upset stomach may be the first symptoms of infantile paralysis.

Call your doctor immediately if any of these symptoms appear. Expert medical care may help prevent crippling.

Remember: Infantile paralysis cannot be prevented but few of those stricken develop serious illness and, with good care, the majority will make a satisfactory recovery.

Don't worry about expenses: If polio strikes, get in touch with the Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis close to your home.

These simple rules should be followed:

Don't get overtired: Extreme fatigue makes you an easier victim.

Avoid chills: Don't stay too long in cold water.

Keep clean: Wash hands before eating. Keep flies and other insects away from food.

Help keep your community clean: Waste and exposed garbage may be sources of infection. Don't swim in polluted waters.

Pen Still Mightier Than Sword Says Fr. O. LaMothe

Munising—"Nations will have disputes as long as there are two persons living to disagree," Father Ovid J. LaMothe told some 3,000 Alger county V-J day celebrants gathered at Bay Shore park in Munising Wednesday evening.

"But we must remember that the pen is mightier than the sword and we must learn to arbitrate by words rather than fight each other with gun and sword," he pleaded. A standing army foments wars; arbitration is the nucleus that means peace.

"It was a joy that filled our hearts to know the boys were coming back one year ago today," he said. "Hostilities had ceased, the war was ended, but peace was not and is not close at hand."

"Yes, our boys are back. Some of the bad ones returned good, but a lot of the good ones returned bad. Why, why, why? Because they left their principles on the other side of the ocean. They have forgotten that they were nice boys at one time, they have returned, but how."

"We must get united again, we must regain our principles. We must become strong in heart, soul and deed. We must uphold what is right, not with mighty armies and clashing swords, but statesmanship and diplomacy."

"We in America have fought and won for ourselves, a land of freedom based on the principle that all men are created equal and our forefathers took the occasion to write the great constitution that has brought peace and freedom to those who came here to enjoy the fruits and praised the sacrifices of those who gave their lives, that we might live."

"We are a nation of all peoples of the world, and as such we found that in 'Unity there is strength.' This principle has given us freedom of the mind and heart, for there was embedded in this great nation a liberty that no other nation has ever had. Freedom means charity towards one another, it means justice for all; it means brotherly love, and prosperity. We have our two great parties, the Democrats and Republicans. We as a free nation can vote in order to uphold the great laws of our constitution, barring one of the parties to safeguard the pure laws which produce happiness.

"We have seen the rise of strong nations, the intoxicating spirit of supremacy, the ulcer of immorality, and the curse of commercialism and all shaking the very foundation of our country which dragged us into the first world war. We thought the peace was won, the battles over, but the hidden voices of the dictator soon convinced us that another war was at hand."

"Are the crosses that mark the flowerhood of our boys in the European battle fields the signal for another war, or for the lasting peace they so willingly gave their lives? Another war means perhaps the annihilation of mankind, for it will be called the atomic destruction."

"We shall have peace when we Americans do not live on the frail powers of humanity, but pray and trust in the Great Hand that made us."

"We shall have peace when we come to realize that the 'pen is mightier than the sword.'"

State Payrolls Rise

ONE of the long-accepted axioms of politics is that no matter how much tax money the taxpayers pay out the tax eaters will find some way of disposing of it.

This contention is proving itself again in Michigan's state government. During the past few years, the state treasury has been making greatly increased collections of sales and liquor taxes, but it appears that payrolls have risen proportionately.

State payrolls in Governor Kelly's second term total $63,015,363 or about $12,000,000 more than in the first term. Of course, some of the increase is due to the necessity of paying higher salaries to meet rising costs of living, but not all of it. There has been a tendency on the part of state bureau officials to complain they are overworked and need larger staffs to do the work. As a result, we have more inspectors, more auditors, more field representatives, etc.

The bright idea, nowadays, appears to be the devising of a new way to spend surplus tax revenues. It is to be hoped that someday someone will think of a better idea . . . how to reduce the taxes that are now creating surplus public revenues. Let's spend less and tax less.

Ghost Town Blight

EFFORTS to cure the "ghost town blight" caused by migration to the city of rural talent and enterprise are being intensified in Montana by recently increased expenditures for rural redevelopment research according to the Council of State Governments.

More than 82 per cent of the nation's 3,072 counties are losing rural population according to recent surveys showing the urgent need to revitalize the rural economy and culture that nourishes the country's complex network of cities.

World War II accelerated this rural depopulation has moved elsewhere since Pearl Harbor, the Montana Study was set up in 1944 as a three-year project aimed at reducing the rural ghost town trend by helping to rejuvenate rural community life.

Recent increases by the state in Montana Study funds enabled new additions to the project's staff and expansion of activities. Key objective of the Montana Study are (1) to help bring adult education facilities to rural areas, (2) to help small towns stabilize their economic life through local volunteer effort, and (3) to keep more able young people in their home towns by raising cultural as well as economic standards of living.

Importance of the third objective is indicated by one educator's estimate that only one in ten U. S. college students returns to live in the small community whence he came. The usual college education methodically trains young people for highly specialized urban lives. A Montana survey disclosed that more than half the women university students have no intention of living in the state after they finish school.

Progress toward objectives of the Montana Study is exemplified in the town of Lonepine (300 pop.) where one of the several Montana Study Groups was established to help citizens analyze community problems and potentialities against a background of state and regional development. As a result of the study group, a library was started in the Lonepine general store, citizens conducted a survey of job possibilities for returning servicemen, and more than $5,000 was pledged in individual contributions for building a recreation center.

In the similar town of Darby, a citizens' committee aided by Montana Study research experts completed a survey of business potentialities showing how the locality could support 14 new small industries. Several committee recommendations already have been put into effect, bringing the town a big step toward economic rehabilitation. Another research project carried on in cooperation with the U. S. Forest Service blueprinted ways for a dying lumber town to rejuvenate itself through forestry on a sustained-yield basis.

Congestion at Straits

TRAFFIC at the Straits of Mackinac is now running more than ten per cent over the prewar record season's figure established in 1941.

Tourist cars being forced to wait in line two or three hours to board the ferry boats at Mackinaw City. Very likely, some travelers are again being discouraged from making the trip into the Upper Peninsula and are confining their tour to Lower Peninsula points. This means that the Upper Peninsula resort industry is losing some business because of the congestion at the Straits.

Before the war, the state highway department built a causeway on the St. Ignace side of the Straits. This project remains unfinished, but if a dock were constructed at the end of the causeway the trip across the Straits would be considerably shortened and more trips could be made.

Let's finish the causeway project.

Public Apathy

SPEAKING recently at a meeting in Hillsdale, Kim Sigler, Republican candidate for governor, warned that government grows corrupt when citizens become more interested in money and affluence than in politics.

The wave of graft and corruption that hit our state capital in Lansing was probably due to no small degree to the failure of Michigan citizens to show a real interest in government.

This apathy first displays itself at election time. Many citizens neglect to go to the polls, offering the excuse that they are not interested in politics, anyway. As a result, inferior and venal candidates are oftentimes elected to seats in the legislature and other public offices. So aware that the public does not care, grafters and bribers have a field day in the legislature and other branches of our governmental system.

The good citizens, have shown little interest in politics, are usually much surprised when bribe-taking and corruption in government are exposed. But they shouldn't be.

Other Editorial Comments

ISLE ROYALE (Detroit News)

The formal ceremony of dedication to take place on Isle Royale Aug. 27 is the last step in affirming the status of the island as a national park. An unspoiled bit of primeval grandeur, rich in lore that antedates written history, is thereby guaranteed preservation in perpetuity for all people.

If this newspaper takes more than an objective interest in the case, it is with reason, for Isle Royale National Park is the fulfillment of a dream originating in 1921 with the late George E. Miller, then editor of The News, and Albert Stoil, Jr., then and now The News' conservation editor, who pushed the project untiringly in the years thereafter.

There was the inevitable local opposition to surmount, and private interests to be persuaded to the public view. There was a long missionary labor to be undertaken in official Washington. Success in such an enterprise is largely a matter of staying with it, undeterred by the seeming obstacle, and undiscouraged. Isle Royale Park is, among other things, a monument to the patience of its friends.

It was officially acquired by the Federal Government in 1935, by which time Washington had become thoroughly aware of the unique nature of its acquisition.

On Isle Royale, the first copper in North America was mined. From Isle Royale early French explorers returned home with dazzling tales of mineral wealth, which so impressed the later Benjamin Franklin that he held out at Paris for inclusion of the island in the then new United States.

Commercial mining and lumbering were attempted on it, but failed by reason of the very inaccessibility which has preserved so much of its primitive glory. Though frequented by man since prehistoric days, it never caught up with civilization. Over much of its area it is today as it always was.

It is a last stronghold of the moose and eagle, and other wild life abounds in its wilderness and the air and water around. Aviation has removed the last difficulty of communication; the island's many landlocked bays form safe havens for amphibious craft. In days ahead it will become one of the most prized and frequented of our common possessions, a natural wonderland protected for all time as an American heritage for the enjoyment of all people.

TURKEY TURNS WEST (New York Times)

The Turkish elections are interesting because they represent a choice of the Western form of democracy on the part of a Russian border state. The Turks have experienced something like the Soviet brand of democracy for 25 years and they have had enough of it. The republic founded by Ataturk was virtually a one-party state, and the ruling party was so long entrenched in power that it had all the advantages in the first free vote. In many districts it is reported to have abused its power by tampering with the ballots and falsifying the count, but with the scales weighted against it the new Democratic Party nevertheless won unexpected majorities in the cities, and at the first test has established itself as a strong minority in the National Assembly.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—A small but highly significant strike serves once again to raise the issue of labor politics. This is the strike of the CIO's American Communications Association against Press Wireless, Inc.

It is not so much the strike itself that is significant but the fact that the union has declared a sympathy embargo on all press messages sent through the other communications companies are stopped at the water's edge.

That this should come in the middle of the peace conference is hardly an accident. The members of the union would seek to use their bargaining power at a strategic moment.

But consider the effect of an embargo applied to all communications services just when we are most anxious to follow the ins and outs of an important international meeting. Given the resourcefulness of American newspapermen, the news, or most of it, will probably get through. Conceivably, however, an all-inclusive communications union could shut down our sources of information. Conceivably, too, this could influence the course of world affairs at a critical moment.

The American Communications Association is one of the CIO unions which are reported to have strong Communist influence. Such a union, with its hold over communications at sea and on shore, would be a perfect Trojan horse for the kind of infiltration practiced by the Communists.

The cry of freedom of the press has sometimes been used indiscriminately by publishers in the past. But this strike seems, in principle, a real threat to the right of Americans to know and to print. It is of a piece with the refusal of the International Typographical Union to permit a newspaper to carry a want ad asking for non-union printers. These are dangerous precedents.

The national CIO takes the point of view that its member unions are autonomous and that, therefore, they are free to go their own way. Sooner or later, however, the question of Communist domination and Communist influence is bound to be raised in such a way that the national organization cannot look around it.

—FURNITURE UNIONS SPLIT—
A major split is occurring in the CIO's United Furniture Workers. In Grand Rapids, Mich., three officials have resigned, calling the union "Communist dominated." They are trying to take 2500 members of Local 415 into the AFL's Upholsterers International Union.

Wholesale defections are reported from still another CIO union. Under the leadership of Abram Flaxer, the United Public Workers of America took an aggressive pro-Soviet line. At the national convention of the union, a resolution was put through denouncing American "interference" in the affairs of other nations. This was called "Imperialism." An effort to amend the resolution to make it cover similar interference by Russia was brushed aside.

The United Public Workers, made up of Federal, State and Country Employees, insisted on the right to strike against the government. This caused such an uproar in Congress that riders were attached to appropriation bills forbidding the use of any government funds to pay the salaries of employees belonging to an organization that stood on the right to strike.

This brought a quick shift in the union line. But it was not quick enough to prevent what is reported within the CIO to be a serious loss of membership.

When union members find that they are being used for political ends that have no relation to wages and working conditions, they will rebel. The phrase "wages and working conditions" covers a lot of territory. It covers, for example, political action to combat inflation.

But by no stretch of the imagination can it be made to cover action to aid the foreign objectives of Soviet Russia, particularly when those objectives are contrary to the interests of this country. That is a bit of common sense that CIO executives would do well to remember.

The AFL's Commercial Telegraphers Union is certain to benefit if the ACA pushes its membership out on a long political limb. That is one advantage inherent in competing unionism. When the companies are narrowed down to one big company and the unions to one big union, then we will be in for trouble that will bear the label of one totalitarianism or another.

statesman. Pronounce it: EM-i-n-ni. Imminent means "close at hand; threatening to occur," as, another strike seems imminent, or imminent danger. Say: IM-i-n-ni. Genus and genus are closely akin, but the words should not be confused. Genus designates extraordinary intellectual or inventive power; also a person of unusual talent, as: Einstein, the genius of the quantum theory. Pronounce it: JEE-n-yuss. The word genus means, "a class or group," as the cow is of the genus Bos. Say: JEE-nuss.

Won't and wont appear to be twins, but they are not even kissing cousins. Won't means "will not." It is the contraction of the archaic "woll not." It has the long "o" sound as in "woe, toe." Say: wont. The word wont (no apostrophe) means "the accustomed way; a habitual manner," as, he is wont to spend his summers in the country. The word rhymes with "punt, runt." Say: want.

News-casters occasionally confuse arraign with the word arrange, stating that So-and-so was "arraigned" for his crime. Arraign means "to call to account; to bring before a court." The "g" is silent. Pronounce it: uh-RAIN. Many such word pairs are discussed in my TROUBLESOME TWINS pamphlet. For a free copy, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, in care of this paper.

RIPE TRADITIONAL—Richard M. Dorson, assistant professor of history and political science at Michigan State College, is in the Upper Peninsula harvesting another crop of traditional folklore for the college archives. To o-folkies to be tagged as a professor, and much too unassuming for the importance of the work he is doing, Richard Dorson is a tanned and blond young man who is probably called Dick by his associates.

Dunathan As Dorson explains, unless the folklore, the tall stories, the traditions, the anecdotes and yarns of the pioneers are compiled and set down in written form they will eventually be lost from memory. In the past many persons have collected some of this wealth of folklore. But there are so many varieties in this vast resource of tradition that a new crop is ever at hand, and Dorson is now harvesting as much of each as he can find time for on his summer trip. Somewhat nervously, as if he thinks you might not understand how thorough is his study, Dorson explains that he "will make another swing through the Upper Peninsula" later. He has already been in the area a number of times, checks and rechecks to bring out the full background of the more important information he is receiving.

THE LONG BOW—His study of Upper Michigan is being made under a Fellowship from the Library of Congress. Dorson's coming to the U. P. was heralded this time with announcement of publication of his book "Jonathon Draws a Long Bow," which is based on the folklore of New England, and represents his doctoral thesis for Harvard university.

Originally from New York state, Dorson is now teaching history and political science at MSC, and is compiling information for the folklore archives of the college. His work in New England has been highly praised by professor, author and critic, and none other than Stewart Holbrook calls "Jonathon Draws a Long Bow" a book which could have been dreary but is "a bang-up and most readable job."

Perhaps Dorson is in Michigan through the Holbrook influence. At least the two know good stories when they see them, and where they may be found. Dorson is not intent on the more popular writing which has earned Holbrook a pretty penny, but he is concerned about preserving the folklore and tales, the stories and anecdotes which were the foundation for some of Holbrook's more successful books.

FASCINATING STORIES—Stopping over in Escanaba on his never-ending search for material, Dorson recounted with delight a story picked up at Menominee. It is the fascinating account of the death and hanging of the McDonald brothers, a pioneer lumber-era crime which still goes gaily spinning along in the memories of old-timers. That there are several variations is understandable. One slight departure from the truth in the telling brings more fabrications. Yet sometimes the tall story that has been considered fiction is found to be true!

Dr. Dorson has discovered stories, weird and unearthly for his collection. One of these was told him by a retired skipper of a life

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

Verna Sloane, 16 years old of Trenary, Mich., and Harold Bernhardt, 16, of Iron River, were chosen as Upper Peninsula Health champions at the 4-H encampment at Chatham.

A settlement was reached in the custody suit involving the child of Mary Astor and Dr. Franklin Thorpe, Miss Astor getting the child during the school months and Dr. Thorpe retaining her during the summer months. Miss Astor's diary was ordered turned over to the court.

Warren Flath, South 13th street, submitted to an operation for removal of the tonsils at St. Francis hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Sullivan of the Photo Art shop have returned from Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dufour have returned from a four day visit in Chicago.

20 Years Ago—1926

Shifting of economic currents by the World War, coupled with the construction of the Panama canal, have increased railroad rates and erected a barrier of toll gates around the middle-west which must be severed by waterways if the farmer is to win back his advantage in the markets of the world, Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, said tonight.

Ann Arbor — A million and a half dollars financing plan for the construction of the new University of Michigan stadium and other athletic expansion was announced today. The plan calls for the issuance of 3,000 twenty-year bonds, each for $500, bearing three per cent interest. Each bond entitles the holder to make application for ten years for special tickets to all football games.

Reading in the back of the local Rapid River paper, which printed local news on one side and used the other side with other news and stories already printed when the newspaper arrived in the community, the Charles Uebriek family in Rapid River read about four years ago of a large unclaimed estate, valued at $75,000, in New York property plus 250,000 English pounds. They realized that they were among the missing heirs and through their efforts, about 500 other heirs were found. Now plans are laid to divide up the huge estate in New York August 21 and the Rapid River residents will receive several thousands of dollars.

Mrs. Albert Kostitzky and two children left yesterday for a visit in Milwaukee.

The Misses Marie Thorsen and Olga Hansen will motor to Peshtigo today to attend a convention of the young people of the Norwegian Lutheran church.

These and other stories are the kind he would like to tell to him, or jotted down and mailed to him in the event he misses these stories on his visits to the Upper Peninsula.

SEND THEM ALONG — Perhaps you may have information which you could send Dr. Dorson. In case you do, address your letter to Prof. Richard M. Dorson, director, Michigan State College Folklore Archives, East Lansing, Mich.

Should you be somewhat in doubt concerning the type of material which would interest Dorson, here are some suggestions, although in general it includes old tales, legends, anecdotes, superstitions, observances and customs of the past. Give the professor your name and address, your age (don't

Q. I have filed an application for change of my blue discharge. If changed to a white discharge, will I be eligible for mustering-out pay?

A. Yes. If your discharge is changed to a white honorable discharge, you will be eligible for mustering-out payment but it will be necessary for you to file an application as the payment is not automatic.

Q. My husband reenlisted July 3, 1946 for three years more service. Will our two children and myself be eligible for a Family Allowance for the entire three years?

Q. What proportion of the world's motor vehicles is produced in the United States?

A. In 1940, the last normal year of production, it was 80.5 per cent.

Some common types of folklore that can be sent to the professor are:

"Tall tales" about great crops, freaks of weather, deeds of strength, unusual happenings. Anecdotes and yarns about eccentric local characters—their doings and sayings. Stories about ghosts, haunts, spooks and mysteries. Memories of early pioneer times—the founding of towns, dangers, hardships, disasters, lucky strikes, incidents of settlement. Accounts of how places got their names, particularly unusual names.

And there are the racial stories, the lore of the Finnish, Cornish, Irish, Polish, Dutch, Italian and other groups. And stories connected with mining, lumbering, fishing, farming, and lakes shipping.

In return, Dorson promises to help those who may seek information about their own locality. The Folklore Archives will help you, if you are interested in such things.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Back in 1919, right after the last war, the Philadelphia Public Ledger hired a special correspondent named E. J. Dillon to cover the peace conference. Mr. Dillon was a good newspaperman. He told the truth.

But as a youngster living near Philadelphia and reading Mr. Dillon every morning, I vividly recall how I and others who had built up high hopes for permanent peace did not like the truth. Eventually the Ledger got so many reader protests against Mr. Dillon's frank and pessimistic reporting that it had to run a special editorial defending him.

The trouble with Mr. Dillon was that he was telling his readers that the 1919 Paris peace conference was going to lead to another war and his readers at that time didn't want to think about war.

Having returned to the USA a few days ago from the present Paris peace conference, I suspect that some of my own readers also have been cursing me out as a pessimist, a kill-joy, and a belittler of modern diplomacy.

If so, I don't particularly blame them. The weather is hot, the vacation season beckons, the headlines are playing up the intriguing question of whether Mrs. Lottie Lockman did or did not poison her neighbors in Dupont, Indiana, and whether a Fairfield, Ill., grandmother poisoned her three-year-old grandson with a sandwich. Congress has gone home, government sweat out the humid August sunshine, we have just finished celebrating the first anniversary of our great victory over Japan, and on the surface there seems no apparent reason for worry about war.

—ARMY MANEUVERS FOR WAR—
Beneath the surface, however, certain ominous developments are seething in the Near East which could plunge us into a war more horrible than anything ever envisaged by the mind of man. Behind the scenes, the top military men of Russia and England and, to some extent, the United States, are now maneuvering for positions for a war which some of them think could come in a matter of months—even weeks.

Here are some of the secret moves which, only one year after a war to end war, make the world so laden with dynamite:

1. Intelligence agencies have learned that Stalin now has three giant airborne armies, totaling 120,000 men each, poised along the Black Sea. They are alerted and prepared for action—presumably against Turkey.

2. The Soviet Politburo has decided on a showdown with Turkey over the Dardanelles—at once. Last week all the Russian field marshals met with members of the Politburo for three days in Odessa. Afterward, Russia sent Turkey a demand that the Montreux treaty covering the Dardanelles be revised at once—and be revised only by the Soviet Politburo.

3. The Russian navy is now concentrated in the Black Sea ports of Sevastopol and Feodosiya.

—RUSSIAN WORK ON ATOM—

4. The British foreign office and the British general staff have decided that the time for a showdown with Russia is at hand. Their intelligence reports indicate feverish Soviet experiments with the atomic bomb and the cosmic ray. The presence of rocket bombs over Sweden is known to be Russian experimentation with radio-controlled rockets eventually calculated to hit England or perhaps cross the Arctic Circle.

British scientists know that the Russians may wind up with the atomic bomb or even the more deadly cosmic ray if the Soviet is given another year to experiment. The British also know that the United States is not ready to wage a joint Anglo-American war against Russia; but they are convinced that, if Russia and England should clash, the USA would soon come in on the British side.

5. The British general staff has moved three crack divisions into Iraq for a showdown with Moscow over Iran. The British fleet is poised in Mediterranean waters. At least nine other British divisions and the entire Royal Air Force are ready to support Britain's determination to dominate Iran. Baghdad, capital of Iraq, is being heavily reinforced by the British.

6. The U. S. army is now spending increased amounts to fortify Alaska and is working in close cooperation with Canada on defense of the entire Arctic Northwest. The Russian spy trials in Canada revealed that Moscow was collecting all possible information regarding northwest Canada and Alaska; also that all details of U. S. troops were reported back to Moscow, even including the movements of regiments in the southern United States.

—RED ARMY ALERTED—
7. The Russians are heavily fortifying the coast of Albania. This gives them partial control of the entrance of the Adriatic and might keep an Allied fleet from rescuing U. S.-British troops at Trieste. Moscow also has been shifting the Red army in Europe, has replaced war veterans with fresh men. In Germany the Red army is 750,000 strong. In Roumania, 90,000 Red soldiers have been increased to 350,000 men. Four Russian divisions are in the Czech Sudetenland. A total of 6,000 Russian planes are in Poland and Roumania.

Summer has brought the urge to hit the open road—which we usually find closed for repairs.

Clifford Moore
Are Married Here

In a recent early morning ceremony Miss Eileen Robinson, 414 South Eighth street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson of Hardwood, Minn., was united in marriage with Clifford Moore, son of Mrs. Roy Moore, Route 1. The young people spoke their vows before Father LaPine in St. Ann church.

In addition to the traditional wedding marches, "I Love You Truly" was sung during the service. Flowers decorated the church.

The bride's gown had a sweetheart neckline and leg to mutton sleeves, the fitted white lace bodice being buttoned down the back. The skirt ended in a long train. Her finger tip veil was gathered to a headpiece decorated with seed pearls. In her bouquet she carried snap dragons, tea roses, baby's breath, and forget-me-nots. For something new she wore a three-stranded pearl necklace, the gift of her mother. A borrowed bracelet and a pair of earrings for something old, and a small blue handkerchief completed her costume.

The maid of honor, Dolores Moore of Escanaba, wore a blue net dress with a sweetheart neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a fitted bodice. Miss Mary Goulais, of Gladstone, who was the bridesmaid, appeared in a fitted blue nylon floor length gown which had a sweetheart neckline.

Reception at Hardwood
A breakfast for ten people was served at noon after the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Roy Moore. Later in the afternoon, the bride's parents entertained at a reception for more than a hundred guests at their home in Hardwood. The dinner guests that evening numbered 102 and here the couple cut a three-layer wedding cake.

The bride, a graduate of Felch high school, is currently employed by the Fair Store. Mr. Moore graduated from Escanaba high school and is a baker at the Delta Baking company.

After two years as a candidate, she went to the mother house in Milwaukee for her novitiate in 1874. She came to Escanaba in 1884 to open the music department for St. Joseph's school. DEER POACHERS BECOME ACTIVE

Three Escanabans Deny Charge; Ensign Man Pleads Guilty

In a wave of poaching activity recently in this area four men have been arrested for violation of the deer hunting laws and conservation officers reported they had found the carcasses of five deer which had been killed and left in the woods, John Angulim, district conservation supervisor, said yesterday.

Robert and Joe Coplan, and Ray Dube of Escanaba, arrested the night of Aug. 11 three miles north of the village of Arnold in Marquette county, pleaded not guilty to charges of killing deer and resisting the arresting officers when arraigned the following day before Justice E. Bjork of Gwinn.

They will be given preliminary hearing Monday, Aug. 19, on the charge of resisting arrest, and if bound over will be given trial in Marquette county circuit court. Trial has not yet been scheduled on the deer killing charge which they denied.

Angulim said that the carcass of a deer was not found, but officers saw a shot fired at a deer and the respondents drove away. They were taken in custody later.

In another case, Walter Grenholm of Ensign township yesterday pleaded guilty in Justice Olin's court at Gladstone to a charge of illegal possession of venison and paid a fine of $50 and costs. He was arrested Thursday afternoon following a search by officers of his home on the Ogontz road.

Conservation officers within the past few days have discovered the carcasses of five deer which were abandoned by poachers. None of the meat had been removed. Two of the deer were killed four miles north of Ford River.

The three others, one a tame buck at the Charles Good place north of Nahma on Chicago lake, had been killed recently. Angulim said the recent cold weather "seems to have brought on a wave of poaching that's keeping us busy."

Four cars were badly damaged and one motorist, Albert Demeuse of Perkins, was injured in two traffic accidents in Escanaba yesterday, Escanaba police reported. Demeuse was receiving treatment in St. Francis hospital and his condition was reported as not serious.

Klages of Chesley, Ont., Canada, and Demeuse collided when Klages ran through a stop sign, according to police. With Demeuse were his brothers, Wilbert, and Joseph and his wife, all of Perkins. Mrs. Klages was riding in the car with her husband.

In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock cars driven by Otis Smith of Fayette and Edward H. Miller of Chicago collided at the intersection of Second avenue south and Eighth street. Miller's car was badly damaged. No one was hurt.

GROUSE SEASON OCT. 1-20 HERE

Schoolcraft One Of Few Counties To Enjoy Shooting

Though all of southern Michigan and the western end of the Upper Peninsula will be closed to hunters of prairie chicken and sharp-tailed grouse this fall, Schoolcraft county will enjoy a 20 day season from Oct. 1-20 with a bag limit of three a day for the two species combined. A total of six may be in a hunter's possession at one time and a total of 15 for the season.

Only Chippewa, Luce, Mackinac, Alger, Delta, Marquette and Schoolcraft counties and parts of Dickinson and Menominee counties north of Highway M-69 will be open this fall.

The state conservation commission decided the season dates and bag limits at a recent meeting at Higgins Lake.

The waterfowl shooting season this year has been cut from 80 to 45 days and will extend from Oct. 5 to Nov. 18. The bag limit has been reduced from 10 to 7 a day, including one wood duck, and the possession limit is 14, including one wood duck. The shooting day has been cut a half hour and will begin a half hour before sunrise extending to a half hour before sunset.

Woodcock season remains unchanged in the Upper Peninsula Oct. 1-15 and Oct. 15-29 in the lower peninsula with a daily bag limit of four and a possession limit of eight.

Partridge season is also the same as last year with shooting permitted Oct. 1-20 in the Upper Peninsula and Oct. 15-Nov. 10 in southern Michigan, but the bag limit, which last year was five a day, 10 in possession and 25 for the season, has been cut to three a day, six in possession and 15 for the season.

Soo Line Again Seeks To Drop Trains 86-87

A petition asking that the matter of the removal from service of Soo Line passenger trains Nos. 86 and 87 be reopened was filed August 12 with the Michigan Public Service commission by the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railroad company, and a public hearing on the matter will be held at the county court house in Escanaba at 10 o'clock in the morning of Tuesday, August 27, according to word received here by City Manager H. J. Henriksen from S. A. Lund, secretary of the public service commission.

For some years the railroad company has indicated a desire to discontinue Trains 86 and 87, which operate daily except Sunday between Gladstone and Sault Ste. Marie, contending that the runs were not profitable.

A. C. Peterson, superintendent of the Gladstone division, said yesterday that from Sept. 3, 1945 to July 1, 1946, the trains had been operated at a loss of $61,000.00. At this rate a full operating year of 313 days would result in a loss of around $68,000.00.

He also stated that while operation of the two trains accounts for approximately 5 per cent of the mileage of the railroad system, the income from its operation is slightly less than half of one per cent of the total for the system.

The trains have been out of service three times in the last eight years. The first time came in June of 1939. In announcing the cut in service at that time the Soo Line made public that they were losing between $18,000 and $25,000 annually on the two runs.

Protests from cities and towns served by the road followed and after an inquiry by the Public Service commission the railroad was ordered to place the trains back in service.

A year or more ago the railroad again discontinued the trains in compliance with an ODT order. This spring there was another interruption in service during a strike which caused a coal shortage.

EARLY QUEEN ISOLATIONIST

Daluka Of Egypt Kept Aloof From Other Nations

Berkeley—A new concept of Daluka, a great virgin queen of ancient Egypt, who built a wall around her country to become one of the world's first known isolationists, is presented in a study by Dr. Henry Lutz, professor of Egyptology and Assyriology at the University of California.

Queen Daluka probably was a goddess of the ancient Egyptians who through the evolution of myths was reduced to the level of humanity, Dr. Lutz points out. She ruled, according to Arab myths, 1,600 years before Christ, assuming royal power at 160 years of age and ruling for 20 years.

Daluka, the myths add, was elected queen by the women of Egypt after the flower of that nation's manhood was destroyed when the Red Sea engulfed Pharaoh and his hosts while they were pursuing the Jews.

"Queen Daluka is described as a woman gifted with intelligence, knowledge, and experience," Dr. Lutz says in a monograph just printed by the University of California Press. "In order to safeguard Egypt against foreign attack, she fortified the country by constructing a wall which encompassed the whole land, made a fosse (moat), set up bridges and ballistas (ancient engines for hurling missiles), and placed guards and weapons at an interval of every three miles. Additional protection was furnished by means of magic, for which she had recourse to an old sorceress named Tadarah."

Dr. Lutz says that Daluka's policy of isolating Egypt from the rest of the nations was felt for almost four hundred years. She never married and there is no mention in available records of her death.

Her virgin status and factors in the myths about her strongly indicate Daluka may be identified originally as Neith, the great goddess of Sais and the western Delta regions of Egypt, Dr. Lutz says.

Dr. Lutz adds that his study is intended, not to elaborate the myths as fact, but to evaluate them as mirrors of historical actuality.

The final week of camping at Timber Trail, the girls' camp on Skeel's Lake about 20 miles north of Nahma Junction, ends today.

During the camp season, which began July 6 and continued to the present, ten Gladstone Girl Scouts spent a total of 24 weeks at the camp.

North Meets South In U.P. All-Star Game At Negaunee Tonight

LARGE CROWD IS EXPECTED

Standing Room Is Left; Contest To Start At 8:30 p.m.

Negaunee, Mich. — One of the largest crowds ever to witness a football game in the Upper Peninsula is almost certain to be recorded at the all-star gridiron struggle here Saturday night. The game will start at 8:30 p.m. sharp.

With all reserved seats gone, there is still room for hundreds of general admission patrons, who will have a clear view of the gridiron.

Oscar E. Wassberg, director of the game, has been unable to supply the demands for seats coming from all parts of the Upper Peninsula but he gave assurance that all persons coming to the game will have a "spot" on the field from which they can see all the action.

Coach Joe Decook today announced the following North squad lineup will start in Saturday night's encounter: Elmblad, L'Anse, end; Doherty, Sault Ste. Marie, tackle; Rodgers, Sault Ste. Marie, guard; Sanegret, Houghton, center; Beattie, Munising, guard; Koski, Negaunee, tackle; Olson, Iron Mountain, end; and in the backfield will be Jennings, Negaunee; B. E. L'Anse; Splan, Sault Ste. Marie; and Chlapuzio, Bessemer.

Coach Allan Ronberg of the South eleven had not made a definite decision regarding his starting lineup. Starters in the backfield, he said, will be chosen among the following promising candidates: Wickholm, Escanaba; Erspamer, Norway; Bengry, St. Ignace; Haglund, Gladstone; Schils, Escanaba; and Radloff, Kingsford. Engstrom of Gladstone, who has made an excellent showing at quarterback in the practice sessions, will start in that position.

Vance Hiney of Negaunee will serve as referee; Dick Schram of Escanaba as umpire, and Wallace Cameron of Gladstone as head linesman.

The North and South squads are practicing at different fields, and under the honor system established there is no visiting of the other team's field during practice sessions. The boys have been enjoying the week's stay in Negaunee together, and managers of hotels and restaurants have praised the boys highly for their gentlemanly behavior at all times.

Coaches of the teams are agreed that the game Saturday with the equivalent of three weeks training. This is because the week's training has been interrupted by the late start of the season, and the boys also have kept themselves in good shape during the summer playing baseball, softball and other sports. Each player will be introduced to the crowd before the start of the game.

The Ahmed Temple Shrine patrol will put on its colorful drill between the halves of the game.

Lead Of Dodgers Sliced By Phils In 4-2 Triumph

Brooklyn, Aug. 16. (P)—Southpaw Oscar Judd set the National League pace - setting Brooklyn Dodgers down on four hits today as he pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-2 triumph. It was Philadelphia's first victory over the Dodgers at Ebbets Field this season.

The defeat temporarily cut the Dodgers lead to one-and-one-half games over the St. Louis Cardinals, who were slated to meet the Pittsburgh Pirates under the lights at St. Louis tonight.

The Phils broke a 2-2 deadlock in the eighth inning, scoring two runs on singles by Vance Dinges and Andy Seminick, an intentional pass to Del Ennis, a force play, and Judd's second single of the game. An errant throw by catcher Bruce Edwards, in an attempt to complete a double play via home and first, allowed Dennis to score the tie-breaking run. Judd then singled to score Seminick with the clincher.

Joe DiMaggio accounted for the lone Yankee run when he slammed his 19th homer of the year in the sixth inning. DiMaggio left the game in the bottom half of the sixth inning complaining of a strained right arm he injured in the fifth when returning a ball to the infield.

The star ballhawk of the Yanks said it was "the sorest arm I ever had." DiMaggio may miss tomorrow's game and Sunday's doubleheader with the Sox.

Boston, Aug. 16. (P)—Southpaw Mickey Harris gained his 15th triumph of the season today by hurling the American league-leading Boston Red Sox to a 4-1 eight hit victory over the New York Yankees.

Harris and the Yanks' Spud Chandler duelled on even terms until the fourth inning, when the Sox pushed a run home to break a scoreless deadlock. The Carmine Hess sewed up the game in the next frame by scoring twice on successive singles by Johnny Pesky, Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr and Rudy York.

The Sports Scoreboard

By Harry Grayson

New York—(NEA).—With each competing on its home diamond, baseball teams of three men each from six major American universities recently took part in the American Collegiate Correspondence baseball field games championship.

Pennsylvania and Colgate accepted invitations to represent the east, Iowa State the middle west and California, Stanford and UCLA the far west.

Events consisted of fungo hitting, throwing and circling the bases.

Pennsylvania's team excelled in fungo hitting and throwing, but were slowest of all in getting around the bags. Their lack of speed cost them complete victory and the Red and Blue had to be content with a tie with UCLA, whose athletes proved fastest besides finishing second in throwing and third in hitting the apple.

Iowa State and California tied for third with Colgate fifth and Stanford last.

Individual winners of the three first places in each of the three divisions will form a team to represent the United States against Australia for the world's amateur baseball championship.

Setback Handed Cards By Pirates At St. Louis, 3-0

St. Louis, Aug. 16. (P)—Ken Heintzelman turned in a two-hit pitching performance tonight to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals for their sixth consecutive triumph.

The loss dropped the runner-up Redbirds two full games behind the leading Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League pennant race. The first contest of the current home stand drew 10,795 paying customers. Another game scheduled for this afternoon was postponed because of rain.

Heintzelman was working for a no-hitter when Erv Dusak bounced a single off the southpaw's glove in the eighth inning for the first Cardinal safety. The only other Redbird hit was another scratch single off third baseman Lee Handley's glove by Buster Adams in the fourth.

DETROIT DOWNS WHITE SOX, 3-1

Trucks Has Chicagoans Hitting Into Air, Whiffs 7 Men

Detroit, Aug. 16. (P)—Bunching three of their six hits for a pair of runs in the second inning, the Detroit Tigers downed the Chicago White Sox 3 to 1 today as Virgil (Fire) Trucks scattered a half dozen Chicago safeties for his 13th pitching victory of the year.

Singles by Dick Wakefield and Roy Cullenbine, Skeeter Webb's fly and Catcher Paul Richards' double gave the Tigers two runs in the second off Starter Al Hollingsworth and a pair of walks, Webb's single and Richards' fly accounted for the other tally in the fourth.

Trucks struck out seven men and had the rest of the Sox hitting so consistently into the air that First Baseman Hank Greenberg had only two putouts all day and Tiger outfielders hauled down 10 fly balls.

Chicago's only run was unearned. Dario Lodigiani was safe on Eddie Lake's error in the third inning, stole second and scored on Ralph Hodgins' single after two were out.

Gordon Maltzberger of the Sox pitched one-hit ball for the last 4½ innings.

Weather Muggy
Aside from Lodigiani, who scored Chicago's only run, only three runners got as far as second off Trucks and nobody else touched third.

Cass Michaels and Maltzberger both walked after two were out in the fifth and Skeeter Webb threw out Hodgins to end the threat.

Luke Appling and Joe Kuhel singled with nobody out in the sixth but Eddie Lake went deep to take Taft Wright's fly. Frank Hayes fanned and Bob Kennedy forced Kuhel.

Michaels doubled in the seventh but Trucks struck out Maltzberger and got Hodgins on a fly to Wakefield as Michaels died on second.

Two double plays, running Chicago's season total to 133 twin killings, helped Hollingsworth avoid additional trouble in the early innings but the Tigers' three-hit spree in the second provided enough runs to win.

A crowd of 10,434 fans sat through muggy 90-degree weather to watch Detroit hand the Sox their seventh defeat in eight games here this year.

Al Benton drew the assignment of pitching the Tigers' opener of a three-game series with the St. Louis Browns starting tomorrow. Paul Trout and Freddie Hutchinson were scheduled to hurl Sunday's doubleheader.

REDS CONTINUE TO JINX CUBS

Chicago Rally Cut Off In Ninth With 3-2 Margin For Cincy

Chicago, Aug. 16. (P)—The Cincinnati Reds, beloved cousins of the Chicago last season when they lost 21 out of 22, continued to prove tough customers today by gaining a 3-2 victory to chalk up their seventh win in 17 games.

Chicago scored both of its runs in the ninth as veteran Harry Gumbert successfully put out the fire the Cubs had started against rookie Johnny Hetki. Going into the last inning, Hetki possessed a 3-0 lead via a four hit performance.

Cincinnati scored two runs on three infield hits, an error and a long fly in the second. The Reds pushed over what proved the winning run in the seventh when Benny Zientara opened with a single and scored on Ray Mueller's double.

Store Girls Break Swimming Records

BY DALE BURGESS

Shakamak State Park, Ind. 16 (P)—Blonde Suzanne Zimmerman and brunette Nancy Merki, pals who work in the same department store at Portland, Oregon, cracked two American women's swimming records today and pushed Portland's Multnomah Club into the team leadership in the National Women's A.A.U. outdoor swim and diving meet.

Miss Zimmerman sculled the senior 200-meter backstroke in two minutes 48.7 seconds, bettering by nine seconds the American women's mark made by Eleanor Holm Jarrett, now Mrs. Billy Rose, in 1936.

Miss Merki, who took up swimming after suffering an attack of infantile paralysis, won the senior 300-meter individual medley in four minutes 29.9 seconds. The old American women's record was 4:32.3, set by Doris Brennan of the Olneyville Boys' Club Auxiliary, Providence, R. I.

Multnomah had 10 points with two full days of competition to go. The defending champions from Crystal Plunge, San Francisco, collected eight points today. Women's Swimming Association of New York and Athens A. C., Oakland, Calif., are tied for third with six points.

Lions Trim Squad To 47 At Alma

Alma, Mich., Aug. 16 (P)—The Detroit Lions of the National Football League trimmed their training camp roster to 47 players here today by lopping 13 candidates off their maximum camp squad of 60.

Following a week's practice at Alma College Coach Charles E. (Cue) Dorais said that waivers had been asked on Ends Owen Thuerk, Lew Smiley and Archie Milano; Tackles Ed Beeman and Al Haleski; Guards Jack Mattiford and Ed Hans; Quarterback Bob Pence; Halfbacks Del V. Huntsinger, Virgil Wagner and Thayne Amoneit; and Fullbacks Rufus Deal and Harry Seltzer.

Milano, Mattiford and Seltzer all have had previous experience with the Lions while Deal played with the Washington Redskins in 1942.

With six weeks remaining before the Lions must meet the league maximum of 33 players, Dorais said that further paring probably would not be likely until after the Lions-Variety game Aug. 31, the club's annual freshman-varsity scrimmage.

Disillusioned Owen Has Hopes But Can Still Raise Sheep

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 16 (P)—Two days after his five-year suspension from major league baseball was upheld, Mickey Owen is sad and disillusioned. But he has not given up hope of returning to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

On the midway of the Ozark Empire Fair at "Mickey Owen Day," the one-time Dodger catcher said in an interview today that he intends to make another appeal to Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

"It's between Mr. Chandler and me now," he said. "I am not going to do anything until I get something official from Mr. Chandler's office. So far I haven't had any word other than newspaper reports, but I expect I'll get a letter soon by my rural route address at Brookline."

Brookline is 10 miles southwest of Springfield.

"Maybe when I get word I'll go to Mr. Chandler and ask if there is anything I can do. If he says no, then I guess I'm through."

"I'm going to start raising sheep," he said. "I've got to do something because right now I'm just standing still. I'm pretty well off financially but there's no money coming in."

Eisenhower Stays Out Of Politics On Latin America Trip

Mexico City, Aug. 16 (P)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower said at a news conference today that he was "absolutely staying out of all national and international politics" during his current Latin American good-will tour.

"I am a soldier and not a politician," he said. "I am making this trip as a simple soldier to pay tribute to certain American Republics for their contribution to the democratic war effort."

Eisenhower called formally today on President Avila Camacho.

Cubs All Through In Rainbow Loop; Football Cuts In

There will be no more 1946 games for the Escanaba Cubs in the Rainbow baseball league. Softball tournaments cut in on the practice schedules for the Cubs, and now football training has claimed several of the players.

A game booked for Sunday with Trenary will not be played because of the disbanding of the Cubs team, it was announced last night.

Boosters are already looking to 1947, and give assurance of a snappier and stronger Cubs aggregation next year.

Gary Negro Admits Poisoning Attempt To Get Insurance

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 16 (P)—Isaac Atkins 31-year-old Gary, Ind., negro, was charged with murder tonight after signing a statement, said State's Attorney John W. Curren, that he gave poisoned wine to a friend with the intention of collecting $2,000 in life insurance.

Atkins' friend Wilbur Lee, 28, a St. Louis negro, was found dead in a bean patch outside of Springfield July 29. On the body were printed identification cards bearing the name of Atkins' brother, Lee Atkins, in whose name the insurance was taken out.

Earlier a coroner's jury held that Lee had been electrocuted. Curren said that Isaac Atkins said in his statement that he had the cards printed. Police found the cards, which directed that in case of death Isaac be notified, on the body. They contacted Isaac, who said the body was that of his brother. Other relatives of Isaac, however, told police it was Lee's body.

Atkins, of (1767 Van Buren Ave.) Gary, was arrested in St. Louis, Curren said, after he attempted to cash the insurance policies, which he said he took out in Chicago two days before the killing.

Health And Accident Insurance Profits Excessive, Says CIO

Lansing, Aug. 16 (P)—Declaring he had no legal authority over that type of rates, State Insurance Commissioner David A. Forbes today rejected a demand by George F. Adde, secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Auto Workers, for a state investigation of health and accident insurance business in Michigan.

Adde had charged that accident and health insurance had produced excessive profits.

Forbes wrote Adde that he was charged only "with the authority of determining that such companies are solvent, and their policy provisions are not misleading or deceptive and that they pay their claims according to the provisions of the policies," he said. "I would have no authority under our present law to expel any of them from Michigan because of a low cost ratio."

After a hearing on April 11, Forbes reported, the state insurance department had refused to renew the "certificate of authority" of the Northern Mutual Casualty company because of "the manner in which they treated Michigan policies."

Republicans Want Investigation Of Federal Spending

Denver, Aug. 16 (P)—A full investigation of federal spending will be made by Republicans if that party is given majorities in both houses of Congress in the November elections. B. Carroll Reece, national Republican chairman, told a Colorado audience today.

He called for election of a Republican Congress in a luncheon talk to the Lincoln club, a Denver Republican organization, and said: "We will have at our disposal the machinery for revealing to the American people how their government has been mismanaged and how their money has been wasted—and by whom—during the past decade or more."

"Doubtless you are familiar with some of the facts which have come to light concerning the bartering of political influence in connection with war contracts. But what has come to light thus far will seem like a pop-gun in comparison with an atomic bomb when the full story is revealed," Reece asserted.

Russian Expansion Into Dardanelles Opposed In U. S. A.

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 16 (P)—With evident presidential approval, Undersecretary of State Acheson indicated today that the United States has determined to stand firm against any Russian military expansion into the Turkish-controlled Dardanelles Straits.

The whole subject of American policy on this issue which top officials regard as one of the most critical on the international scene, was reviewed at a White House conference yesterday, informed persons said.

While there was no official disclosure regarding the White House meeting, Acheson's statement to a news conference today was interpreted by diplomats as evidence that President Truman had given the go ahead for development of a positive American policy in the face of new Russian demands on Turkey.

Acheson told his news conference that he could see no reason why proposals initially put forward by Secretary Byrnes last September for modifying control of the straits should be changed.

Shades Of Old West At Woodstock, N. Y.

Woodstock N. Y. (P)—When the Joseph Gilberts returned to their farm home one night, their cattle were making such a fuss that they investigated. In a pasture near the barn they found the scant remains of a $1,500 cow.

Trainmen Postpone Southern Pacific Strike For Aug. 21

Washington, Aug. 16 (P)—The national mediation board said today President A. F. Whitney of the Railway Trainmen has authorized an indefinite postponement of a strike of 8,000 Southern Pacific employees scheduled for 6 p. m. August 21.

Whitney ordered the postponement, a board official told reporters, pending efforts to settle a dispute between the Brotherhood and company through mediation under the railway labor act. B. W. Fern, deputy president of the Brotherhood, said in San Francisco yesterday that approximately 1,750 cases remain unsettled between the union and the company.

The Brotherhood has charged the railroad with violating working agreements covering classes of employees it represents.

William F. Mitchell, a board mediator, already is in San Francisco conferring with the parties to the dispute.

Opening Of School In Detroit To Be Delayed By Polio

Detroit, Aug. 16 (P)—Health authorities of Detroit and more than a dozen suburban communities agreed today to recommend to local boards of education that September school openings be delayed at least a week because of the prevalence of infantile paralysis in the area.

Dr. Frederick Leeder of the state health department told the meeting of health and school officials that Michigan has had 212 polio cases and 24 deaths this year.

He declared the disease was concentrated in the southern part of the state, especially in Detroit proper.

Supt. of Schools Arthur Dondineau of Detroit, who attended the meeting, said he would recommend to the board of Education Tuesday that Detroit schools remain closed until Sept. 9 and possibly until Sept. 16 if additional polio cases are reported.

Representatives of Detroit's parochial schools also agreed to delay their Sept. 3 opening, the same date as that originally set for the public schools.

STREET RAILWAY TIEUP AVERTED

Union And DSR Settle Maintenance Workers Dispute

Detroit Aug. 16 (P)—A threatened tieup of the Detroit Street Railway system was averted tonight when DSR and union officials settled a dispute which had idled 1,800 maintenance workers.

General manager Richard A. Sullivan of the DSR and officials of Local 312, maintenance workers (CIO) said they had agreed on probationary reinstatement of an employee whose discharge had precipitated the walkout.

The union summoned its workers to return on the shift beginning at midnight Friday.

Before the agreement was reached, clerical workers and supervisory employees had been pressed into service to refuel city busses.

Two Frant Teeth Broken In Mishap By Mrs. Roosevelt

New York, Aug. 16 (P)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, writing today in her syndicated column in the New York World-Telegram about the automobile accident in which she was involved Wednesday, said she broke two front teeth in the mishap.

"Now I shall have two lovely porcelain ones, which will look far better than the rather protruding large teeth which most of the Roosevelts have," she said. She said she already had spent 3½ hours at the dentist's office and "must go back to him tomorrow and again next week."

Mrs. Roosevelt wrote that she was "quite well," but for some time would "look as though I had been in a football game without having taken any training."

She blamed the accident on the effect of the sun, making her drowsy.

"I have never had an accident before and had no idea that the sun, together with the fact that I had no one sitting by to talk to me, could have such a bad effect in making me drowsy," she wrote.

"I can only be thankful," she added, "to a kind Providence if no one was seriously hurt."
